				Rod and the NSLU2 guys have always been good friends of OE and I think we will be in good hands on their server. There has been many a time they have helped us when we were in dire straits.
5/1/2009 5:06:56	Graeme Gregory	dp@xora.org.uk	Yes	I would hope when eV is running properly we can help their hosting costs or something.
5/1/2009 5:16:59	Frans Meulenbroeks aka eFfeM	fransmeulenbroeks@yahoo.com	Yes	if i recall correctly nslu2-linux already uses this for quite a while without problems.
5/1/2009 5:33:44	Phil Blundell	philb@gnu.org	Yes	Gotta move it somewhere, and OSUOSL seems as good as anywhere else.
5/1/2009 6:56:59	Denis 'Gnutoo' Carikli	GNUtoo@no-log.org	Yes
				Strongly in favor of this proposal.
				OpenEmbedded infrastructure should no longer rely on single persons, single DSL links etc.
5/1/2009 7:48:39	Leon Woestenberg	leon@sidebranch.com	Yes	Praise to Mickey who has provided the equipment and links and good uptime up to this point.
5/1/2009 10:22:16	Bernhard Guillon	Bernhard.Guillon@opensimpad.org	Yes
5/1/2009 13:23:02	Tom Rini	trini@embeddedalley.com	Yes
5/1/2009 14:26:19	Marcin Juskiewicz	marcin@juskiewicz.com.pl	Yes
5/1/2009 15:30:24	Martin Lund	mgl@doredevelopment.dk	Yes
5/4/2009 3:13:15	Esben Haabendal	eha@doredevelopment.dk	Yes
5/4/2009 3:31:09	Sergey Lapin	slapin@ossfans.org	Yes
5/4/2009 6:15:50	Dmitry Baryshkov	dbaryshkov@gmail.com	Don't care	We should not decide upon receival of the first offer.
5/4/2009 12:33:47	Dr. Michael Lauer	mlauer@vanille-media.de	Yes

Timestamp	Name	Email Address	Should we move OE infrastructure to OSUOSL?	Any additional comments?
5/4/2009 13:39:37	Tom Hayward	esarfl@gmail.com	Yes
5/5/2009 2:47:19	Dirk Opfer	Dirk@do13.de	Yes
5/5/2009 3:42:56	Andrea Adami	andrea.adami@gmail.com	Yes	Judging by the hosted project (first client was Gentoo) and the sponsors (Google, IBM, Real,...) it seems a very solid infrastructure.
5/5/2009 16:37:29	Florian	florian.boor@kernelconcepts.de	Yes	We need to move and this sounds like a very good offer. Especially the fact that they have admins who could help us is good - most of us are busy developers.
5/6/2009 11:36:49	Marco 'mckoan' Cavallini	m.cavallini@koansoftware.com	Yes	A reliable hosting system is fundamental for a growing project like OE.
